

The Sorority Life & Me

National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) sororities are inter/national membership organizations with chapters at four-year colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

Your sorority life will include

- A home away from home
- Personal and leadership development
- Academic support and achievement
- Community service
- Philanthropic activities
- Social activities
- Network opportunities
- Scholarship opportunities
- Friendship
- Fun

Networking and Leadership

- Being part of a Greek organization offers opportunities for leadership, learning and development.
- Having a leadership role in Greek Life can give you experience in the following areas: communications, budgeting and finance, learn how to govern meetings proceedings, event planning and contracting, community affairs and charitable events, CMS for website updates, public speaking, and social media marketing.
- Becoming a member can lead toward networking opportunities for internships and potential jobs post-college.
- Many entrepreneurs use their Greek network to hire interns in the hope of helping a fellow sister.

Great! So you've decided you want to go forward and pursue Recruitment.....

Recruitment differs on each of more than 600 campuses where there are NPC sororities, so it is important to get information from the particular campus student office to understand the process.

Tips to maximize your recruitment experience

- Take notes about a chapter after leaving an event.
- Keep an open mind whether or not you think you like the sorority. You might be surprised!
- Ask questions. It helps the conversation and shows you're interested – plus, you'll probably learn something new.
- Smile and have fun!
- Remember, all sorority members have been through recruitment, so they understand and want you to feel comfortable.
- If you're confused, go to the wrong event, or just need someone to listen; go to your recruitment counselor. She is there to support you.
- Read the Potential New Member Bill of Rights, so you are aware of your rights and responsibilities.
- Read the Membership Recruitment Acceptance Binding Agreement, and make sure you understand what it means. Ask questions if you don't.
- Once again, smile and have fun!

Good Luck on your journey in the collegiate experience!
